I really liked ...

- I really liked being able to get to know new people, understand a bit more about their culture and mostly seeing all the beautiful views, especially the sunsets on the beach.
- We got to work together in teams, share ideas, and create something new. I also enjoyed discovering the city and spending time with friends.
- visiting the city in the afternoon/evening.
- I really like sunset because they are best in November
- I really liked Barcelona and spending time with the Spanish children.
- I really liked the trip to Barcelona, because I have never been there before.
- I enjoyed it and know new people. I think Erasmus+ is a very good project. I can do different and interesting things with new people.
- I really liked the trip to Barcelona because I like to explore new places.
- I enjoyed every minute in Mataró it was great experience.

I have learnt ...

- some information how people include people with some kind of disability or from another country or with another religion
- New Spanish words
- People are different, but not stupid or worst
- About Catalan culture
- how to work in a team and share ideas
- I also practised my English and learnt more about the city and the culture.

What was the most challenging part of the week?

- maybe the fact that I had to adjust to how they lived, different food and a lot of walking
- working on the project in a team. It was sometimes difficult to share ideas and agree on solutions with everyone.
- Communicate with the students or the families, because sometimes I didn't know how to say that in English
- The travelling days
- The first day, because I wasn't sure how Spanish family will be like.
- the last day when we had to create the presentation because we had to gather a lot of information.

Did you make new friends during the week?

- Yes, of course
- Yes, I did, and I'm grateful for all of them.
- Yes, I made new friends during the project week. I met people I didn't know before, and we spent a lot of time working and having fun together. I hope we will stay in touch even after the project.
- Yes, many new Spanish friends.
- Everybody answered YES!

◦ What
would you do differently
next time?

- Maybe I would rest more in the afternoons or evenings because I was sometimes tired.
- Grab less clothes :-)
- I would sleep more.
- I will make sure to follow the rules and be more responsible in every situation.
- maybe go to sleep earlier, cause I was always a bit tired
- Nothing
